City Council Proceeds with Finalists for City Manager Position

Green Cove Springs- Green Cove Springs City Council selected five finalists for City Manager during its meeting with Doug Thomas, vice president of Texas based recruitment firm Strategic Government Resources (SGR), on Wednesday, August 1, 2018.

The finalists selected include Tad Davis from Arlington, VA, Colin Groff from Green Cove Springs, FL, Lewis Kennedy from Americus, GA, Mike Renshaw from Winder, GA, and current Assistant City Manager and Public Works Director Mike Null. Each have several years of experience serving leadership roles in municipal government, with Davis also bringing in a military background.

The city has been working with Strategic Government Resources since the spring of 2018. SGR accepted applications through July 9, attracting 64 applicants from 21 states. City Council reviewed 40 of those applicants on July 12 and selected 12 semifinalists. Two of the semifinalists withdrew, leaving the City Council to select five finalists from the remaining 10 semifinalists on August 1.

All five will go through the final two-day interview process on August 30 and 31, including a community “Meet and Greet” on August 30. The finalists will also undergo additional vetting including a psychometric assessment, a second thorough media search, and a rigorous background check.

More details on time and locations during this two-day interview process will be released in the upcoming weeks.
